Washington, March 22.—The United States will take its place at the table of the reparations commission before long.

This conclusion is inescapable after the developments of the last 24 hours here—the exposure from the White House that Congress would authorize American membership in the commission to make public Thursday the full text of the American note to Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Japan, asking that the claim for $21,000,000 for payment of the expenses of the American army of occupation on the Rhine be considered by the allied powers who are doling out German reparation money.

No less person than the president himself has told congress that the situation over the import of drugs from Germany for the American people is so serious that American participation in the deliberations of the reparations commission absolutely is essential.

Mr. Harding now puts the issue squarely up to congress and says the responsibility for the absence of an American member on the reparations commission lies with congress.

Harding Blames Congress.

This is a new tack for the executive. Heretofore the initiative in international cooperation has been in the hands of the secretary of state, but so jealous has congress become of all dealings with Europe that Mr. Harding is not apt to project the question of reparations to the executive conference.

It is significant that both Senators Lodge and Underwood, leaders of the (Continued on page 5)

$29,000 Tobacco Trial Is Settled Out of Court

Through the continued effort and insistence of Judge George Grimm the $29,000 tobacco contract case of John and Ralph Soultman was settled out of court after the trial had lasted one week. The stipulation was filed Thursday morning, the court dismissed the complaint and discharged the jury soon after the agreement was signed.

Under the stipulation Grundy, defendant, pays the Soultman firm $30,000 in cash. The bulk tobacco and samples are returned to Grundy who assumes the ownership. The expenses of the trial are paid by the contestants, each assuming his own costs.

It will be remembered that plaintiffs brought suit to recover $39,000 which had been paid on the contract previous to the starting of the suit. The agreement makes no provision for the return of the $22,000 not including the costs. On the other hand Grundy has full ownership of the 31 cases of tobacco which he has now materially depreciated because of a poor market.

Judge Grimm Settlement

Since the trial started there have been attempts at an adjustment. At the start Judge Grimm was unable to make the contestants see the merit of settlement.

Numerous conferences were held early in the week at which an adjustment was discussed. The Soultmans experienced was to determine the present ownership of the tobacco. At first there was a considerable variation as to the cash to be paid. The trial would have probably continued until Friday before the testimony could have been closed. GOVERNOR IS NOT BARRED BY LAW, IN MORGAN OPINION

COOPERATION WITH COMMISSION IS PROVIDED.

WORDS SPECIFIC

Opinion to Skogmo Shows Sweeping Intent of Income Tax Law.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—The present secrecy clause to the income tax law does not prohibit the governor from cooperating with the commission from information in its possession, respecting violations of the tax laws or regarding fraudulent income tax returns, Attorney General William H. Morgan informed Senator George B. Skogmo in an opinion Thursday.

The opinion further holds that a law enacted by the legislature at this time, extending the time from three to six years in which the tax commission may investigate income returns, would apply to income returns in years which are no longer open to investigation, due to the present three year statute of limitations.

Governor Not Barred.

The significance of this opinion is said to lie in the fact that there is little likelihood of repeal of the secrecy clause to the income tax law at this session, and in the fact that Governor Blaine has declared that under the present statutes, he has no access to income records of the tax commission.

The secrecy clause in the original income tax act was very sweeping; the attorney general declared, "but even as it stood then it did not preclude the governor from obtaining full knowledge of all income returns."

It is not to be presumed that the legislature would intend or endeavor to exclude the chief executive, the representative of the state, from the duty of law enforcement, from access to any state paper, however privileged such document might be as to the public.

But the legislature did not for the matter rest on presumption. The tax commission is commanded to consult and confer with the governor of the state in the carrying out of its duties, to furnish the governor from time to time such assistance and information as he may require.

All returns, reports, records, correspondence and files in possession of the tax commission or under their control, as well as knowledge or information not in writing, must be furnished if requested by the executive.

Referring to the amendment to the present law, which would extend the time from three to six years in which income returns may be investigated, the attorney general says that "such an amendment would not be adopted before the three years now specified in the statute have expired, in order to retain jurisdiction for the years that would otherwise pass out of the statutory period going back in the collection of taxes."

Statutes for the collection of back taxes are remedial and such statutes may be made retroactive.

Substitute for Secrecy Clause May Be Passed

By STEPHEN HOLLEN

Madison—State police was the game played under the white-lighted dome of the capitol Wednesday night. At midnight in spite of the supposed high cards held by the administration when it called for special session of the legislature for a trivial reason, the governor was licked.

Never has there been so complete accord in the opposition to a measure. Every man, except those few who are wrapped up and dependent upon the political fortunes of La Follette and the governor and have no independence, was opposed to the governor's program.

Most every one, regardless of party affiliation was hopping mad and rose because the call put them to an expense and a waste of time coming to care for what they called a "trivial" matter and one that would have been left to the regular session.

"Clean It Up Quickly."

90 percent of the members wanted to clean the job and be through Thursday and on the way home. They demanded a hearing, a hearing which began Thursday morning. The tax commission had a word to say about the collection of taxes. The commission is not unanimous about the repeal of the secrecy clause as a help to the commission in making collections. Publication would not only waste in funds and to say the least, have an incalculable effect on the same, these members hold.

A substitute bill was agreed upon Wednesday night. 17 senators are pledged to it. It does not repeal the secrecy clause so far as the public is concerned.

Substitute Bill Ready.

But it adds that the income tax returns shall be available to "any state or local official, inspector, auditor or other person having authority to have an incalculable effect on the same, these members hold."

This gives all the machinery of every kind for the purpose of any investigation in funds and to say the least, a state tax commission. Behind this substitute are 17 senators and 42 members of the assembly. There will be some debate.

Young Mr. John Dahl of Barron county, who thinks he is a future Dab, is going to make a speech anyhow. He will be answered by Mark Catlin, once the great football player and now a member of the assembly. Also a few words about economy will be spoken by Assemblyman Edwards of Waukesha, a master at this figure work. There may be verbal fireworks enough to linger out the night.

Deadlock May Follow.

But the situation is more complicated than it looks, since the senate is willing to give the tax commission what it wants in funds and to say the least, a state tax commission go back 3 instead of 3 years. But the assembly had 41 votes against all these propositions Wednesday night. Mr. Blaine's report on the secrecy clause will not go through the senate. If the assembly does not accept the substitute there will be a deadlock.

And there you are.

Things happened in rapid succession. The senate passed the appropriation of $65,000 for the use of the commission in 1922-23. $40,000 of the $65,000 was taken from the general fund and $15,000 added. Titles were suspended and a unanimous action was taken.

Then the bill was sent to the assembly.

Substitute bills were introduced by Senator Skogmo and Assemblyman Mark Catlin.

The hearing continued all morning after the routine had been acted upon and the senate had made ready to act on the bill. The hearing was held in the La Follette meeting for attorney general, argued for the repeal of the secrecy clause.

Edward Norman, market committee chairman, said he would permit a small man to see how much the big competitor was making; and be a help to him.

Mr. F. Haugen, for 20 years chairman of the state board of education, said that it made no difference either way whether the secrecy clause was repealed or not. The tax commission had to locate the fraud by any means.

Four hours are being given up to this argument.

He bore three holes in the door, which he said he had forced the lock. He rifled the drawers of the postoffice, which is run by Mr. Quick and the cash register of the store, and took $5 in change.

THREE GREAT ERAS IN HEALTH WORK

"Teacher First Line of Defense," Says Welch in Address.

By ELLA EVERITT.

The teacher is the first line of defense in the health work, declared Dr. Fred B. Welch, city health officer, before county training school students in a talk, Wednesday. The teacher holds this important position because she is so closely related to the pupils.

Dr. Welch stated emphatically that every teacher should be able to detect the early symptoms of children's diseases, but it is not necessary for her to diagnose cases, of course, said Dr. Welch.

The three great eras in health development were carefully outlined by the doctor.

Health work originated in England, he said. "The people in the eighteenth century knew little about contagious diseases. They thought disease came from filth, so general clean-up campaigns were utilized as a means of eradicating communicable diseases. "Nithedoes not breed disease, for disease must come from a human being or from the lower animals. Of course, it is necessary to have clean surroundings, so the first cannot set in to the bodies of human beings, declared Dr. Welch.

The second great era comprised the isolation and the quarantine of the patient. Under this head, Dr. Welch

TELLS STUDENTS WHY OFFICE OF SANITARY INSPECTOR IS NEEDED

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," are two rules, said Dr. L. J. Woodworth, city sanitary inspector, at the Teachers' Training school Wednesday morning, which, if followed out would make the sanitary inspector's office superfluous. "But human nature being what it is, does not make certain that people will live up to these rules," he said. "There are two kinds of nuisances, public and private," said Dr. Woodworth. "People can do what they like until it infringes on the rights of others, then somebody has to step in and put a stop to the nuisance. "Sanitary work means the care given to food and foodstuffs from the time of inception to the time it is again in the earth. "When you go to a restaurant, do you think about who handles your food? Are you sure it is good, that it is not infected, or has not been exposed to dust or dirt? All such matters dealing with the care of food are handled by the sanitary inspector."

Banking House of Jay Cooke, Philadelphia

Jay Cooke and the 5-20's

DURING the Civil War the United States was faced with one financial crisis after another. Expenses were from one million to a million and a half a day. Bonds had already been issued, and a new form of currency known as Greenbacks. In 1862 the Government was again faced with the necessity of raising a large sum.

European economists said it could not be done. Even the treasury officials feared that any new bonds would sell far below par. But, in 1862, bonds were issued—the "Five Twenty-Sixes" so called because payable in from 5 to 20 years with interest at 6%.

For some time the bonds sold very slowly. Then Jay Cooke, a Philadelphia financier, took hold. Using the newspapers and a large selling organization, Cooke was soon turning a million and a half dollars a day into the treasury. At one time he bought all the "Five Twenties" that were offered on the market below par, in order to keep up the public confidence.

Five hundred million dollars of bonds were sold, confidence in the Union was restored, and Cooke won the sobriquet of "Financier of the Civil War." Then, as now, efficient organization produced results.

And in the Great War it was the co-operation of the investment houses with the government and business that made possible the necessary industrial expansion, and contributed greatly to the success of the Liberty Loans.

Painting Our Masterpiece

When a visitor once asked a famous artist which he considered his best picture, he replied, "My next, always."

"Excelsior" is a motto that will never be bettered—the determination to accept of ourselves nothing less than constant improvement as we go about our divers arts, trades, professions and businesses. In good storekeeping the ultimate does not exist. No store is so good that it can rest upon its laurels, no form of service so complete that it cannot be extended.

The ambition of this store is to excel itself from day to day—to make each succeeding "picture" its best.

What Happens

when you shampoo our way

The first result is softness you have never before experienced after washing. The usual dryness and brittleness are absent.

Your hair is glossy and silky in texture—every strand gleams. Most important, your scalp is purged from every trace of dandruff.

Only palm and olive oils can accomplish such results. They have been famous since Cleopatra's day for their softening, beautifying qualities both on hair and skin.

These costly oils, imported from overseas, are the basis of Palmolive. Their combination produces the softening, beautifying shampoo.

Olive oil for gloss

Palm oil for richness

Olive oil possesses softening qualities which neutralize the drying effects of washing. Palm oil contributes body richness and lasting qualities.

In combination they produce a thick, mild, profuse, penetrating lather which softens the scalp and reaches every root and hair cell.

This lather loosens the dandruff scales, dislodges and dissolves them, leaving the scalp and hair free to function healthfully.

Keeps your hair healthy

This thorough removal of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea, is most necessary, as even the accumulation on healthy scalps injures the hair.

The dry, oily scales clog the roots of the hair, preventing proper nutrition. Soon the hair begins to fall out.

The blend of palm and olive oils you get in Palmolive softens and penetrates the scales, loosening the cap-like accumulation.

Gentle massage forces it into the tissue of the scalp, leaving it healthfully purged and clean. Hair shampooed with Palmolive is never dry, harsh and brittle. The blending of these soothing oils leaves it soft, glossy and silky.

If for any reason you didn't get the free 15-cent trial bottle, send the coupon and we will gladly mail it.

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market.
2. Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory overhead 58%.
3. Selling costs reduced 38%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization."

"Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car owner."

The saving through first cost plus, the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

U. S. ENTERS CLAIM FOR RHINE FUNDS

Identical Notes Sent to Allied Governments on Payment of Bill.

(By Associated Press.) Washington, March 23.—The conviction that its right to payment of the cost of maintaining troops in Germany on an equal footing with the allied powers was not only a clearly ascertainable right, but is free from any technical objection, the American government in identical communications addressed to the governments of Belgium, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, has informed them it would welcome suggestions "for the reasonable adjustment of this matter."

Asserting the American government is unable to conclude that the justice of its claim is not fully recognized, the notes made public in text here today Wednesday say the United States "would be only too happy to proceed to the consideration of suitable means by which just claim may be satisfied."

Following such adjustment, the notes said, the United States government "hopes that the allied governments will be disposed to refrain from giving effect to any arrangements for the distribution of cash payments received from Germany to the exclusion of the claims of the United States."

$29,000 TOBACCO CASE SETTLED

OUT OF COURT

Regarding the trade practice of changing the sample tickets and seals.

"Sometimes the new owner put his tickets and seals on the samples," replied the witness. "There is no positive identification of the tobacco after the seals have been removed."

Frank Pepper, Footville, was called to tell of seeing the tobacco before delivery and on February 7 at the Soultman warehouse.

"The second lot of samples did not seem to be drawn from the same cases," declared the witness.

"Is there any way to identify tobacco without a seal?"

"No—there is no positive way," answered Pepper.

Question after question was asked regarding the removing of the seller's tickets and seals on the samples. The witnesses, however, testified that they were unable to distinguish the difference between the Grundy samples before delivery and those purported to be the same samples even though they did not notice the seals or tickets.

C. E. Pierce in his cross-examination was careful to question each of the experts for the defense whether they noticed what seals and tickets were on the samples—other than those of the Lingo-Hamilton company. None of the witnesses remembered the tickets despite the fact they agreed the tags and seals were the only positive identification.

Soultman Ordered Tickets

Miller Calkins, Janesville, during his direct testimony, declared the samples did not compare but in his cross-examination the witness was somewhat confused. Attorney Pierce attacked his testimony as an expert and demanded that he tell the difference between "binder" and "stemming" tobacco. "The witness was shows samples and admitted he could not tell to what class the samples belonged."

Thomas Ellingson, Egerton, testified to the alleged variation in the samples and the effect of removing the tickets. R. W. Scott, Stoughton, also testified.

George F. Kueck, manager of the Brandenburg printing company, Janesville, told of John and Harry Soultman placing an order December 23, 1921 for 500 sampling tickets. This witness declared that one of the plaintiffs asked whether the company had any Grundy tickets on hand. A sample was left and when Kueck was unable to locate tickets similar to those used by Grundy, other tickets were ordered. "I told me it did not matter anyway, when I couldn't locate the Grundy ticket samples," swore the witness.

Issues in Trial

Changing of the sample tickets by the Soultmans looms up as one of the paramount points of the case. It has been previously declared that when the samples were received for the 351 cases, the seal with the name of R. L. Burt was on them. John Soultman declared the tickets were dirty and "not fit to be sent out." He changed them, substituting new tickets with a seal having his own name. Kueck alleged he placed the same figures on the new tickets and did not otherwise change the samples.

Later when the Lingo-Hamilton company supplied the bulk tobacco and the poorer type became evident, according to Soultman, he again changed the tickets, took off his own seal as a "matter of pride." At the time he first changed the tickets Soultman claims he believed the deal satisfactory and was going to assume ownership of both the samples and tobacco.

Ownership with Change

The defense claims he assumed ownership the time he changed the seals. Three payments were made on the $43,000 contract by the Soultmans, $10,000 being paid November 17, 1920 and $14,553 in December, 1920 and $18,447 in April, a total of $22,957, including interest and other charges.

The ticket changing evidence and the demand by Grundy that Soultman sign a "document releasing him from all damages before delivery of the bulk tobacco," stand out as two paramount features of the case.

Playing in ragged form, the Janesville "YW" basketball team defeated Milton Union high school girls team at the Milton high gymnasium Wednesday night, 28 to 16. A large and noisy crowd witnessed the battle.

With a changed lineup in the second half after the first had ended 16 to 1 for the Rover city, the Janesville girls could not get together. They could not get back to team work and as a result, the latter period was a 12-12 tie session.

9 High Schools May Organize Athletic Circuit

Representatives of nine high schools in Southern Wisconsin will meet with Coach Crandall of Milton College at the college Saturday night to go over plans for the formation of a "little nine conference" for the advancement of high school athletics. Invitations have been extended to Edgerton, Janesville, Milton Union, Port Atkinson, Jefferson, White water city, Stoughton, Lake Mills and Palmyra.

Questionnaires have been sent the coaches of each of these schools asking his ideas on the subject. The question of admission of Janesville and Beloit will be taken up, some thought being these cities too large for the other schools. The belief is held, however, that any such union will be wiped out. Evansville has already voiced its approval of such a conference.

The conference would start with basketball and track and include all major competitive sports.

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINCLAIR
A report comes to the sport desk that the coach of a big college swimming team wanting to be sure his men would get honors ordered a complete set of a spring apparatus that would add considerable distance to plungers. Granting this may be only a rumor, there must be some one where there is smoke.

Rivalry of cities in close proximity is keen. Beloit and Janesville are not the only examples. Fond du Lac is happy on winning the sectional tournaments that they beat Oshkosh. Fondy has captured the title twice in four years and four times in seven. In such matches, players are urged on by efforts greater than ordinarily. Superhuman ability drives them, inspired with the achievements and valiant attempts of former teams.

A woman's athletic director declares swimming is the best all-around sport for the fair sex. She says it is more healthful, a better body builder and finer for developing grace than any other activity. Tennis, she asserts, is next.

Talking to Gene Monroe talks the other night, they discussed the Monroe Badger basketball team. While they remarked about the big crowds that packed the games in the Green county seat their wish was more local talent could be used. "There is no glory to a town in win basketball games when all the players are from out of town and you wouldn't know them if you met them on the street," they said.

Says General DeWolfe: In view of the important position physical education has assumed in our national life, both from the standpoint of economic productivity and national preparedness, I feel it the duty of all patriotic citizens to assist in every way. Janesville can assist by boosting its playgrounds.

Since this column was started other papers have brought the subject taken up the idea in one way or another. Quotations from the "Busy Man" are getting to be a regular thing.

The pick of the Gazette to win the state high school basketball championship is Watertown, first; Fond du Lac, second; Menomonie, third; Superior, fourth and Beloit, fifth. This is the way the dope goes on paper—but you never can tell.

TEACHERS' SALARY QUESTION UP SOON

Maintaining of Present Scale Advocated by City and County Superintendents.

Will teachers' salaries the coming year be reduced for Janesville and Rock county school teachers?

With the approach of the time for the issuance of contracts this question is arousing considerable interest among teachers and school board men.

Through the maintenance of a fair standard of salaries, Janesville school board men believe, is the best teachers in the state and in the opinion of Supt. Frank O. Holt this should be continued. The teachers' committee of the board of education has not as yet taken up this question.

Speaking of the situation in the county schools, Supt. O. D. Antisdel expressed a hope that the present standard be maintained.

Rural Average $110

"The present indications are that it will be," said Mr. Antisdel, "have a strong hope they will not get a raise next year. It has been talked of a lot because of the decrease in the cost of living but I maintain that if the school districts want good teachers they must not cut salaries."

Otherwise, Rock county will lose all of its good teachers and only the poor ones will stay, those who would find difficulty in securing a position elsewhere.

The average salary paid in Rock county today is about $110. The highest is $145 and the lowest is $89 per month.

Permits Not Necessary

Permits or special licenses to allow teachers to serve in rural schools in Wisconsin are a thing of the past and have been in Rock county for the past two years, according to Mr. Antisdel. Supt. John Callahan has sent word that teachers not fully qualified will not be allowed to teach and he will not permit grant authority to issue certificates giving them special licenses.

"We have not had a teacher in Rock county teaching with a special license for two years and very few before that," said Mr. Antisdel.

Action favoring the repeal of the law was taken at a conference of county superintendents at Madison recently which was attended by Mr. Antisdel. The law says the state superintendent may or may not grant the request for a special license and he is now exercising this option, which means the elevation of teaching standards throughout the state where in many cases women have been allowed to teach with special permits.

Country Club Plans Several Improvements

A caddy house, a work shop for the professional instructor, building a new driveway and the construction of a tennis court are contemplated by the Janesville Country club for this year, according to E. J. Hanson.

The club has never had a home for the caddies and it has been a long felt need. The estimated cost is $2,000.

The plan is to straighten out the driveway from the Magnolia road to the clubhouse. A tennis court was considered late last year and it is expected it will be laid out this season.

The club has secured the services of Mrs. Otto Blumrich as chef. Mrs. Arthur Granger, who had been chef in former years as chairman of the house committee but who was unable to assume charge last year, has consented to act again this year.

Mr. Farmer—the "Farmers' Exchange" starts Saturday. Have you listed your excess stock?

DAYS AND NIGHTS OF EQUAL LENGTH

Days and nights will be of equal length for several days due to the vernal equinox, or the crossing of the equator by the sun, which occurred at 5:23 a. m. central standard time Tuesday. On that day the sun rose at 6:12 a. m. and set at 6:29 p. m. Based on these figures, and the time changes only gradually, the duration of daytime is 12 hours and seven minutes and the night eleven hours and 55 minutes making a difference between the two of only 14 minutes.

The vernal equinox does not always occur on March 21 as is the common belief but more often falls on March 20, and sometimes on the 19th. In 1896 the sun crossed the line on March 19, and on March 20 for the four succeeding years and on March 21 for the next three years.

BRIEFS BY WIRE

Washington — Secretary Hughes told the five principal allied powers the American position in regard to the reimbursement of its forces in Germany.

Washington — The house of representatives voted to cut the army to 115,000 men.

Chicago — Two distinct earthquake shocks were reported from southern Illinois, Missouri, Michigan and Kentucky. No damage was reported.

SPEED LAYING OF BRICK AT J. H. S.

Skilled Labor Secured if Necessary by Cities—Corners Ready.

With brick laid up on the first floor, a definite idea can now be gained of how the new high school is going to look when completed.

Not finding enough local skilled help, J. P. Cullen and Son, contractors, have been forced to go to Whitefish, and other cities in Southern Wisconsin for bricklayers and masons to rush the work to completion. Mr. Cullen expects the brick work will be completed by April 15. Stone and marble is being put in place as the brick work proceeds and a giant automatic scaffolding which hangs from the top of the building has been erected preparatory to starting the brick work on the first floor. The scaffolding is worked by a system of levers so that it may be gradually elevated as the work progresses.

The cornerstone, which will be laid on April 1, is on the grounds. Future generations will know the school as having been built one year before it was actually completed, for inscribed upon the stone are the figures "1921". It is generally customary to date the cornerstone from the year in which work is started.

J. H. Van Ryn, Milwaukee architect, was here Tuesday and Wednesday looking after various details and was well pleased with the progress being made. He said that the heating and plumbing contractors would probably be on the grounds to begin work next week. There is a large amount of work which must be done at a certain period in the progress of the building's construction to avoid delay in other work.

Erect Big Girders

The steel girders which will support the roof of the gymnasium are being put in place. Work was temporarily halted on this because the workers ran out of steel. Another load arrived Tuesday and was unloaded and brought across the river to be put in place. "Dividing the double gymnasium is to be a steel curtain which may be rolled up."

Window frames for the first floor have been put in place so as not to impede progress of the bricklayers. The architects have seen to it that the building will be one of the lightest in the city and windows largely take up the space between the posts of the concrete frame construction. The structure will be about 45 feet high.

FORT ATKINSON

Fort Atkinson—Miss Ada Barrie, 72, a member of one of the first pioneer families to settle here, died Tuesday night. She was a daughter of R. M. Barrie, from whom nearly all the land on the north side of the river on which the city is built and known as Barrie's addition, was obtained. Miss Barrie was born here, has lived practically all of her life here, and died at the Barrie home, aged where she and a younger sister, Miss Marian Barrie, the only one of the family now left, resided. She had been in poor health for several years and for the last few years had been confined to the house. Funeral services will be held at the house Friday afternoon, the Rev. D. Q. Grubill, former pastor of the Congregational church, officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

The Creamery Package Manufacturing company of this city is running full capacity and employing 475 men. On one floor alone, where they employed eight men last year, they are employing 22. They are running nights in some of the departments and are far behind on their orders. To aid them in this emergency they have called on the James Manufacturing company which will turn over its foundry to make castings for them.

A. J. Glover, editor of Board's Dairyman, went to Oconomowoc Wednesday to address to farmers meeting the occasion being a huge farm implement demonstration. Glover reports the general agricultural condition in that section good.

Directors of the Jefferson County Farm bureau met Wednesday at Jefferson. The matter of the organization of local breeding associations was taken up. These are for the purpose of assisting county secretaries in the location of cattle, as the demands for pure-bred stock are increasing and in many cases the secretaries are unable to locate the cattle the buyer wants. The farmers reported the cattle industry looking up. Mr. Guffey, secretary of the Jefferson County Holstein Breeders' association, said the demand for Holsteins is good.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

The mayor talks whenever opportunity presents itself about the accomplishments of his administration. If we are to believe him Janesville is the best governed city in the state. His natural and well-known modesty is the only thing that keeps him from saying in the United States. He says it is the best lighted city in the state, that is the best paved city in the state, that it is at the bottom of the list in tax assessment, etc., etc.

This kind of talk may be throwing dust in the eyes of some people, but the average working man and woman is not fooled by it. They know certain facts. They know that large sections of the city are very poorly lighted, while certain other sections are overlighted; as, for instance, Center Ave., where lives one of the fathers of the city.

They know that there are many streets which are in such a horrible condition that in case of a fire the fire department could not get within favored spots. The streets are paved and repaired largely at the expense of the people who live in the mud. They know that money is being squandered in a reckless manner and that as a result taxes have mounted to ever higher levels. It is surely high time that something is done to give Janesville a better form of government and I welcome the opportunity to vote for a city manager at the Spring election.

SIXTH WARD

Editor Gazette:

I have read the Voice of the People and have taken great interest in it for I am a property owner in the first ward and a widow. I earned my living by the sweat of my brow since my husband's death, and up to two years ago, when I got badly hurt, and have not been able to work since. But my taxes went up just the same and I don't approve of the way Ward is running the city of Janesville. I don't believe in us poor people paying for collecting garbage when we have none. I believe let those who have garbage to collect pay for it and not us poor people who have none.

FIRST WARD PROPERTY OWNER.

Editor Gazette:

The people on Ringold street needn't think they have all the thrills in their neighborhood as we had a record of five automobiles stuck in our mud holes on Tuesday. Also a big bakery truck reposed in the mud nearly all day until it could be hauled out to dry land. We will back the two blocks on Racine between Logan and Blackhawk as the worst in the city, bar none. It was a pretty good street until it was ploughed up late in the fall by contractors, and has been practically impassable all winter. Before election a year ago, the administration promised immediate paving of this street. Why wasn't it done?

Bring Your Little Child to Our Store Tomorrow

Ask for a demonstration of the Junior Unfolding Two-Level Pedal. Let your own little child sit down to a piano and play—using the pedals!

See how much more interest she takes in playing. For now she can enjoy the real beauty of the instrument. Now, for the first time, she can play with expression.

She Will Be Delighted

Show her the advanced music pedaling makes possible for her—with ease! See how it appeals to her imagination. How it stirs her to enthusiasm. Never need she be driven to practice—with the Junior Pedal!

Compare this with the ordinary piano. She cannot reach the pedals. They might as well not exist. As she plays, the tone has no color, no singing quality. To play properly, with expression, is impossible!

The only piano a child can play properly is the celebrated Lyon & Healy Piano, equipped with the Junior Unfolding Two-Level Pedal.

The Pedal Is Vital

Only through the pedal can the full resonance of the piano be brought out. What good, then, is an instrument of fine tone if the child who plays it cannot use the pedal? So reasoned Lyon & Healy—and they developed the Junior Pedal.

This is the greatest piano invention in fifty years! Strongly endorsed by highest authorities. It completes the piano—at no extra cost.

Exquisitely voiced, uncommonly beautiful, the Lyon & Healy Piano has won world-wide admiration. It presents supreme quality at moderate cost. Adding the Junior Pedal puts it beyond competition.

You Owe This to Your Child

Come in tomorrow for a demonstration—without obligation. Bring your child. Or, if inconvenient to come now, phone or write for free illustrated folder.
